SHARP ROW OVER PLATFORM DRAFT

Committee Discusses Proposed Declaration of Principles.

WILL CONFER WITH COLONEL

Group of Leaders Present Long Document Requiring an Hour and Half to Read and Then the Fireworks Begin—Plan to Appoint Subcommittee of Seven to Consult With Roosevelt Meets With General Favor.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—The committee on platform of the National Progressive convention got into a lively row soon after organization was perfected and some pretty plain words were spoken in discussing the proposed declaration of principles of the new party.

It was apparent from the first that the platform probably could not be completed before late Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. It is due to go to the convention Wednesday afternoon.

After full discussion in the general committee the plan of the leaders was to appoint a subcommittee of seven to confer with Colonel Roosevelt and to work out the platform with him.

The idea will be to condense into crisp, short planks the various advanced ideas to be outlined to the convention by the colonel in his so-called "confession of faith" speech. It was said that practically all of the progressiveness in Colonel Roosevelt's speech will be adopted in the platform.

May Eliminate Radical Ideas.

There are two or three of the more radical ideas, however, which may not be included. Colonel Roosevelt, it was said, would not object to the elimination of a few proposals, but is insistent that all the rest shall be contained in the platform upon which he is to run.

Soon after the committee met the draft of a tentative platform was presented by a group of leaders who had met several times to discuss the matter. The draft was said to express the combined ideas of Dean Lewis of the law school of the University of Pennsylvania, Dean Kitchin of the law school of Columbia university, Gifford Pinchot, Chester Rowell of California, Charles McCarthy of the legislative reference bureau at the University of Wisconsin, and Medill McCormick of Chicago, James R. Garfield of Ohio and other close personal friends of Colonel Roosevelt.

It had been announced that those men had drafted a scholarly platform, which was a program of genuine social and industrial justice and which would mark a new era in this connection in the United States.

Vigorously Attacks Platform.

It required an hour and a half to read this tentative platform and immediately a dozen members of the committee attacked it with vigor. William Dudley Foulke of Indiana headed the assault. He declared that the platform should be shortened to one-quarter its length.

Hugh T. Halbert of Minnesota took the floor as soon as Foulke had finished his criticism. He called the platform verbose, pedantic and lacking in vitality.

Several other members of the committee took a stand similar to that of Mr. Halbert and various planks were torn apart and derided. It was then announced that the committee would be engaged in revising the platform until Wednesday morning before it would be in shape for submission to the convention.

Miss Jane Addams of Hull house was among those who appeared. She lifted her voice on behalf of the negroes and asked that the new party "stop, look and listen" before disfranchising in their convention the negroes of the South.

Planks were proposed on civil service reform, prohibition and nearly every advanced political idea of the day.

GIRL WINS MOTORCYCLE RACE

Beats Out Twenty Men in Endurance Contest.

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 6.—Miss Margaret Lawler, a sixteen-year-old girl, beat out a field of more than twenty men riders in the endurance contest given under the auspices of the Kenosha Motorcycle club.

Miss Lawler made the 150-mile route, making a perfect score and passing every control ahead of time. Only six of the twenty-two entries in the endurance contest had a perfect score and Miss Lawler led all in the time computation.

WILL SPEAK IN MINNESOTA

Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Johnson to Stump State.

St. Paul, Aug. 6.—Governor Hiram Johnson of California, a probable successor for vice president, has promised to deliver several campaign speeches in Minnesota. Senator A. J. Beveridge, Progressive candidate for governor of Indiana, also has consented to take part in the Minnesota campaign. Colonel Roosevelt will invade the state in the week of the state fair. So, from a speaking standpoint, Minnesota will be well cared for.

CALIFORNIAN IS MOST TALKED OF

Governor Johnson Appears Sure of Second Place on Progressive Ticket.

BEVERIDGE MAY ALSO BE PERMANENT CHAIRMAN

Judge Lindsey of Denver Is Physically Unable to Undertake Task.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson of California seemed agreed upon as the vice presidential nominee of the National Progressive party to make the first fight of the new political organization with Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

Judge Ben R. Lindsey of Denver, a former Democrat, had been agreed upon as permanent chairman of the convention. Colonel Roosevelt had endorsed the recommendation of Judge Lindsey and the plan had been enthusiastically approved by the delegates.

Judge Lindsey called on the colonel and had a long talk with him. He said he had been suffering from asthma and did not feel physically capable of taking up the work. Under the circumstances Colonel Roosevelt agreed to release him and, while it had not been finally decided, it was said to be likely that former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, the temporary chairman, would be continued as permanent presiding officer.

Colonel Roosevelt said before he left Oyster Bay that he favored the selection of a Southern Democrat as vice presidential candidate. The field was canvassed carefully by leaders of the new party and it is understood that the colonel's suggestion was abandoned only when it became evident that it was impossible to decide upon the available man.

It was said that sentiment among the delegates in favor of Governor Johnson was so strong that his choice as Colonel Roosevelt's running mate was virtually assured and that the leaders who predicted his nomination were merely voicing the opinion of the convention.

The California delegation passed a resolution saying the state could not spare Governor Johnson, but it was said that the governor's friends would not insist upon this attitude.

Johnson May Stump East.

In the event of Governor Johnson's nomination it is planned to have him take the stump in the East, while Colonel Roosevelt is campaigning through the West. The governor's qualifications as a campaigner were said to be a strong factor in his favor.

When Colonel Roosevelt reached Chicago he put in a stormy two hours before he succeeded in straightening out the tangle over the contesting negro delegates from the South. After he had been welcomed by a crowd of several thousand persons and had made a speech on the street in front of his hotel he went to his headquarters and took the helm.

The Florida and Mississippi cases which had not been ruled upon by the provisional national committee were placed before him in detail and it developed that there was a sharp difference of opinion in the Roosevelt camp. A number of his Northern supporters told him frankly that they disapproved of the policy of barring all negro delegates from the South.

It was urged that such a position would cost the National Progressive ticket the support of a large number of negroes in Northern states in which their strength was greatly needed. Others of Colonel Roosevelt's supporters felt that in fairness to the negroes they should have some representation from the South.

Colonel Roosevelt stood his ground. In answer to every objection he said that he would cling unequivocally to the position he had taken, and that, although it might cost him votes in the Northern states, he believed it to be the best interests of the party to proceed under white leadership in the South. He reiterated the statement made in his letter to Julian Harris of Atlanta that it was to the white man in the South that the negro must look and declared his position was for the best interests of the negro. It was said that all his associates finally were won over fully to his point of view.

Cool Trees.

It is not shade alone that makes it cooler under a tree in the summer. The coolness of the tree itself helps, for its temperature is about 45 degrees F. at all times, as that of the human body is a fraction more than 98 degrees. So a clump of trees cools the air as a piece of ice cools the water in a pitcher.—Exchange.

JUDGE LINDSEY.
Unable to Act as Permanent Chairman of the Convention.

WOULD ABOLISH ELECTORS

Proposed Amendment Provides for Direct Election of President.

Washington, Aug. 6.—A constitutional amendment by Representative La Follette of Washington for the election of the president and vice president by direct votes of the people is provided in a resolution introduced in the house.

It provides that candidates for these offices must be chosen in the primary elections and that the successful candidates shall have a majority of all votes cast. If this fails on a first election a second election is to be held on the last Thursday of each November quadrennially.

BEGINS WORK ON HIS VETO MESSAGES

President Will Disapprove Steel, Wool and Cotton Bills.

Washington, Aug. 6.—President Taft began preparing his veto messages on the steel, wool and cotton tariff revision bills. His vetoes will be based upon his understanding that the bills have been drawn almost regardless of the tariff board's reports on those schedules. The president has not decided which he would first disapprove.

Chairman Henry C. Emery of the tariff board was a White House visitor. He took data there which the president will use in his veto messages.

The iron and steel tariff bill received the signatures of Speaker Clark and Acting President Bacon of the senate and went to the president for his inspection. This is the first of the tariff revision bills passed by the Democrat-progressive alliance in the senate.

An attempt by the conferees on the excise tax bill to reach an agreement was not successful.

PLAN OF REPRESENTATION

Departure Suggested for Selecting Delegates According to Vote.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—A radical departure from the accepted basis of representation in national conventions was proposed at a meeting of the committee on rules, with the approval of Colonel Roosevelt. It is planned that in future national conventions, instead of seating a delegate from each congressional district and one for each United States senator, there shall be one delegate from each district and an additional delegate for each 10,000 votes cast in the previous election for the National Progressive ticket.

The plan is designed to prevent the existence within the new party of conditions such as have obtained within the old parties, whereby sections of the country in which the parties have little or no strength are represented in the conventions on the same basis as the strong Republican or Democratic states.

SHEPARD RESIGNS OFFICE

Secretary of National Educational Association Quits.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Irwin Shepard of Winona, Minn., secretary of the National Educational association, has resigned his office, it was announced, and Durand W. Springer of Detroit has been appointed his successor by the board of trustees of the association.

In his letter to James M. Greenwood, chairman of the board of trustees, under date of July 12, Mr. Shepard said his resignation was for personal reasons and had been delayed by conditions "impairing the honor of the association." These conditions, he said, had been righted and he was free to leave the office.

Twenty Socialists Arrested.

Pittsburg, Aug. 6.—Twenty Socialists, including nine young women, jailed for street speaking without a police permit, kept the other prisoners awake all night with oratory. There was no sleep, just speeches. The Socialists were discharged, Magistrate Gietman upholding free speech.

"BULL MOOSE" IS IMMORTAL

Title Applied to New Party Gets in Congressional Record.

ROOSEVELT IN LIMELIGHT.

All Talk of the Campaign Gets Around to His Name—Newspaper Owner is Ohio Democratic Candidate For Governor—Long List of Pairs Indicates That Many Have Left City.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 6.—[Special.]—These are days when men frequently speak of the "bull moose party." In fact, that remark of the gifted Arthur Brisbane, who first applied the title "bull moose" to the ex-president, seems to have gone over the land and, as if to become immortal, has imbedded itself in the Congressional Record.

During a discussion of dry tariff matters it developed that a versatile genius had made one statement for the Republicans of the finance committee and another statement on the same subject for the Democratic members.

"I wonder if he could not be obtained to make a statement for the bull moose party?" inquired Senator Borah, who is supposed to have leanings toward Colonel Roosevelt.

Wild Game Preserve.

"Bull moose" talk was heard in the house over the subject of fencing a preserve somewhere in the west to keep in the herd of buffaloes or similar animals which might be donated to the government.

"If any one," interjected Jim Mann, "knows of a fence which will keep a bull moose within bounds I am sure he can sell the fence at a very high price."

"I doubt not," remarked Fitzgerald of New York, a little further along in the discussion, "that the Republicans will regret that they have not included bull mooses in this array of wild animals that are to be corralled some place in the west or in some remote part of the United States."

Then Hardy of Texas asked for information. "The gentleman from New York," he said, "has several times referred to bull mooses. Now, it is a question whether the plural should be bull mooses or bull moose."

"The chief bull moose," replied Fitzgerald, "is perhaps better equipped to determine that question than any one else, and I refer it to him."

In the Limelight.

And in this connection it is well to remember that, by whatever term he may be known or by whatever he may do, Theodore Roosevelt is more in the limelight than any other man in the country. His name appears, either as "T. R." as the "ex-president" or the "bull moose" or the "third term candidate" or by some appellation which means Roosevelt, more times in all the papers than both of the other candidates together. All talk of the campaign gets around to him first or last, and it turns out that all guessers and figurers are in doubt because they cannot gauge his strength nor tell what he will do before the campaign is over.

Ohio Governorship.

Just at a time when the Ohio Republicans were sorely tried as to whom they should name for governor the Democrats of Ohio in Washington were freely predicting that the next governor of Ohio would be a newspaper man of their party, James M. Cox. Quite a number of years ago Mr. Cox came to Washington as the secretary of Congressman Paul Sorg. There was not much in it for him, but he wanted to "learn the ropes." Then he went back home and secured control of two daily newspapers, one at Dayton and the other at Springfield. Then he came to congress, and now he is a candidate for governor, and many Democrats assert that he will be elected.

Long List of Pairs.

Every time there is a record vote in the senate the announcement of the pairs shows how many senators have left the city. There is an average of thirty or more senators announced as paired on every roll call. It is said that they are "unavoidably absent," whether they may be in Europe, at the seaside, in the mountains or elsewhere or simply out on political speaking tours. There are many others who will be "unavoidably absent" as soon as certain legislation is passed.

Knows Mammoth Cave.

The greatest living authority on the Mammoth cave, Colonel M. H. Crump of Bowling Green, Ky., was in Washington recently. It is declared that he has no peer so far as knowledge of the intricate passages in the wonderful cavern is concerned and that no one could possibly confuse him even by turning him loose blindfolded in it.

During his stay here he was shown through the capitol, and, among other places, his guide conducted him from the senate office building to the house office building by way of the basement of the capitol. The colonel was much impressed.

"I am not afraid to go into the Mammoth cave alone," he said, "but I don't ever want to be left alone here. I'd never see the light of day again. Why, even without electric lights in the cave it's harder to get lost in than it is here."

Wrong Diagnosis.

She—Before we married you called me an angel. He—I know I did, but it was a case of mistaken identity.

JANE ADDAMS.
Will Second Nomination of Theodore Roosevelt.

JANE ADDAMS AS SECONDER

She Will Speak for Illinois When Roosevelt is Nominated.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Miss Jane Addams, one of the delegates at large from Illinois, will second the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt on behalf of the state delegation when this order of business is reached in the national convention.

Miss Addams is to have the honor of being the first woman to speak as a delegate in seconding a presidential nomination in a great national convention, excepting the Prohibition and Socialist conventions, where women delegates have been admitted frequently.

AMERICAN MARINES LAND IN NICARAGUA

Lawlessness Disappears With Arrival of Bluejackets.

Washington, Aug. 6.—American bluejackets and marines were landed in Nicaragua late Saturday for the protection of citizens of the United States and their property.

The expedition, under Lieutenant James A. Campbell, Jr., was landed at Corinto, the principal seaport on the Pacific side, and transported by rail to Managua, the capital, arriving there early Sunday morning.

Lawlessness disappeared with the arrival of the bluejackets, according to Minister Weltzel's reports.

FRIEND OF LINCOLN DIES

"Grandfather" of Republican Party Ends Life a Pauper.

Kansas City, Aug. 6.—Ira Haworth, known as the "grandfather" of the Republican party in Illinois and a personal friend of President Abraham Lincoln, died at a local hospital, a charity patient. He was eighty-five years old.

Haworth was one of the six men who attended the first Republican meeting in Illinois in 1856 and later was one of the delegates who voted for the nomination of Lincoln for president.

In 1860 Lincoln sent Haworth a gravel and a cane made from a rail which he had hewn for a fence.

FATHER OF MRS. TAFT DEAD

Judge Herron Succumbs to Pneumonia at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Aug. 6.—John W. Herron, father-in-law of President Taft, is dead. Judge Herron was eighty-five years old. He had been failing in health for several years. A sudden attack of pneumonia was the direct cause of death.

Until his retirement from the legal firm of Herron, Gatch, Herron & James, five years ago, Judge Herron was the oldest practicing lawyer in Cincinnati. He had practiced law in Cincinnati since 1848. For fifty-two years he was a member of the board of trustees of Miami university.

FRENCH TO BOMBARD AGADIR

Will Avenge Murder of German by the Moors.

Rabat, Morocco, Aug. 6.—The French cruiser Cosmao has been ordered to bombard Agadir, on the Atlantic coast, in consequence of the recent murder of a German representing the firm of Hannemann, which carries on extensive business there, according to a rumor received here. Hamid el Hiba, a former portendant to the Moroccan throne, has installed himself in that district as sultan.

TAFTS OFF TO CINCINNATI

Will Attend Funeral of Father of President's Wife.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The president and Mrs. Taft, Charles, their younger son, and W. C. Herron, a brother of Mrs. Taft, left Washington over the Pennsylvania railroad for Cincinnati to attend the funeral of John W. Herron, Mrs. Taft's father.

The president will return to Washington early Thursday, but Mrs. Taft may remain in Cincinnati several days.

POLICE FUND TO DEFEND BECKER

PENSION DEADLOCK STILL ON

Senate and House Unable to Find Common Ground.

Washington, Aug. 6.—An attempt by Democratic leaders in the senate to end the deadlock over the $158,000, 000 pension appropriation bill failed when they lost their fight to abolish the seventeen district pension agencies now scattered through the United States. Both houses voted to stand by their respective positions and the bill went back into conference.

The house had tried to legislate these agencies out of existence, but the senate amended the bill to preserve them. Mr. McCumber of the senate conferees reported to the senate that it had been found impossible to break the deadlock with the house. He added a bitter arraignment of house leaders who had placed the blame upon the senate for the holding up of pension appropriations.

WILSON TO SEE MARSHALL

Won't Tell Name of Treasurer of National Committee.

Seagirt, N. J., Aug. 6.—Governor Woodrow Wilson will pay his respects to Governor Marshall of Indiana tonight at Spring Lake, two miles from here. The presidential nominee will call on the vice presidential candidate, who will attend the notification exercises Wednesday. The meeting will be their first since the two were chosen to head the Democratic ticket.

The governor was unable, he said, to announce the name of the treasurer of the national committee agreed upon by him and National Chairman McCombs.

Make Record Cattle Price.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—A record price for cattle on the Chicago market was established when a carload of steers from Tuscola, Ill., sold for $10.10 per 100 pounds. Bidding was brisk despite the high price.

Eagles at Cleveland.

Cleveland, Aug. 6.—Every incoming train brought additional delegates to the national convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and it is estimated that there are more than 50,000 visitors. An all day reception and a grand ball at night formed the day's program.

New York Officers Said to Be Raising $50,000.

MANY GAMBLERS IN COURT

Lieutenant Accused of Causing Rosenthal's Murder is Arraigned and Withdraws His Plea of Not Guilty and a Motion is Made to Invalidate the Indictment—Case Goes Over Until Wednesday.

New York, Aug. 6.—A police fund of $50,000 is being raised for the defense of Charles Becker, the police lieutenant charged with instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, according to information in the hands of District Attorney Whitman.

The money is being collected, it is said, by the so-called "system," which aside from the murder case, is to be investigated by the district attorney, who believes there is a corrupt alliance between the "system" and the gambling fraternity founded on graft and blackmail.

Information of the $50,000 fund came to the prosecutor in connection with the arraignment of Becker to answer the indictment against him. In the legal proceedings, which included the withdrawal by Becker of his plea of "not guilty" and motions to invalidate the indictment, the prisoner was represented by three lawyers, one of whom mysteriously withdrew, while the others seemed doubtful of their own status when the proceedings were over. It was said that the lawyers were not satisfactory to collectors of the defense fund, who, the district attorney heard, have practically engaged a prominent criminal lawyer to defend the lieutenant.

Postpones Hearing Arguments.

John W. Hart, who conducted the proceedings, after withdrawing his client's plea of "not guilty," made one motion to dismiss the indictment on the ground that it was irregular and another to review the grand jury minutes and take evidence to show whether the ground for the indictment was sufficient. Judge Mulqueen refused to hear arguments on the motion and set the case over until Wednesday.

The fact that Becker was to appear for arraignment attracted an immense crowd to the criminal courts building. Among them were many gamblers and characters of the underworld.

Becker, looking somewhat pale from his week of prison life, walked from the Tombs across the Bridge of Signs to the courtroom with a firm step and maintained a self-possessed but grave demeanor during the proceedings.

The prosecutor said that he proposed to press only the murder charge at present.

While the police are searching the Catskills for Gyp the Blood and Lefty Louis, two of the alleged murderers of Rosenthal, private detectives employed by the district attorney are looking for them in Boston.

The board of aldermen adopted a resolution providing for an investigation of the police department. A special committee headed by Alderman Curran was appointed to conduct the investigation and $25,000 was appropriated to bear the expenses.

TAKES ACCEPTS RESIGNATION

Federal Judge Hanford Retires From the Bench.

Washington, Aug. 6.—President Taft formally accepted the resignation of Federal Judge Cornelius H. Hanford of Seattle, Wash., who resigned while a house committee was investigating impeachment charges against him.

Hanford's resignation was transmitted to the White House by telegraph several days ago. Later the judge sent a formal letter, which has not yet been made public.

The president withheld his acceptance of the resignation until he had conferred with the subcommittee which heard the charges against Hanford.

With the increased cost of living and the demand for higher wages comes the desire to raise the prices of haircuts and massages and after August 14 these requisites of the toilet will be advanced 10 cents each by the local union barbers. Get time by the forelock and get a hair- cut early and save two nickels. Practically every man in Brainerd is af- fected by this decision of the bar- bers, except one or two purely bald headed fellows. Down at Deerwood there are several old cronies who take turns cutting each others hair, but no such conditions exist in Brainerd.

SALOON LICENSES $1250, SAYS ELDER

Alderman James M. Elder Wants Figures Set at That Mark in August, 1913

COUNCIL MAJORITY FAVORS IT

Pay Rolls and Bills Allowed Last Night—City Assessor's Salary Placed at $600

"I want the city attorney, Mr. Ryan," said Alderman James M. Elder, of the second ward, "to draw up a resolution setting the annual saloon license at $1250, to take effect on and after August 1, 1913."

Coming at the close of the council meeting Monday night, attended by every councilman except Alderman R. A. Henning, the motion of Alderman Elder came as a distinct surprise after an evening devoted to routine discussion.

"I take great pleasure in seconding that motion," said Alderman Webb, who is Alderman Elder's colleague in presiding over the destinies of the second ward.

"You do not have to put such a request to a vote," suggested one of the aldermen.

"Well, I want a vote to gain a sort of expression of opinion in the matter," said Mr. Elder. And accordingly a vote was taken with this result: In favor of the motion, Aldermen Elder, Purdy, Webb, Olson and Anderson, 5 ayes. Against the motion, Aldermen Fogelstrom, Dieckhaus, Lagerquist and Rowley, 4 nays.

"I think the saloon license is high enough and should not be increased," said Alderman Rowley, as he voted against the motion.

But it carried and so the city attorney will draft a resolution putting the license at $1250 annually and Alderman Elder, now that he has commenced the battle, will probably have his resolution voted on at some coming meeting in the near future.

Although the council advertised for bids to put in paving on North Fifth street, but one bid was received and on motion, the bid was not opened and the matter was deferred for further consideration. No bids were received to build the South Seventh street sewer.

Henry Krause, the city assessor, asked the council to fix his salary and the city fathers placed it at $600.

The Cuyuna Range Power company asked for permission to run a pole line through sections 30 and 35 in unplatted portions of the south side and on motion, the matter was referred to the city attorney.

Chief McGinn, of the fire department asked for the following supplies at the Central hose house: 2 dozen rubber gaskets, 2 play pipes and nozzles complete, 2 short ladders, 1 ceiling hook, 2 Babcock chemicals, 4 dozen chemical bottles and repairs on the hose house.

City Clerk Roderick gave his report on receipts and disbursements for the month of July 1912, as follows:

Among the bills allowed by the council and ordered paid were those of the city officers, $324.33; C. D. Peacock, $125; rent Park opera house $50; pay roll police department, $450; special police carnival week, $44.

Alderman Fogelstrom objected to the city paying for special police during the carnival week and accordingly the city will bill on the park board association for that sum.

The fire department bill was $155; volunteer firemen $34.50; street employees $518.41; ten gallons of weed killer $7; Parker & Topping for foundry work $40.32; repairs to the stone crusher, a large number of rock bills, etc.

The four ornamental lamp posts which were to decorate the post office square hung in the balance last night. A motion to pay the bill of four posts and their installation, amounting to $214, fell through, being lost by a vote of 5 to 4. A motion to defer consideration carried by a vote of 5 to 4. At the end of the session a motion carried to install an are light near the postoffice.

Chairman Dieckhaus, of the finance committee, reported that the park board was not very enthusiastic about paying for the paving on North Fifth street, adjoining Gregory park. Secretary S. R. Adair was heard on the matter and substantiated this.

City Engineer Peacock submitted plans and bids for furnishing his office with suitable filing cases. No action was taken.

Alderman Dieckhaus suggested cre-

WHAT CROW WING COUNTY CAN DO

Winter Rye Standing Five Feet Four Inches in Height Raised by J. M. Hayes

ON HIS FARM NEAR BARROWS

Rye is Well Headed—Corn, Potatoes, Oats and Wheat Doing Well in the County

What Crow Wing county can do is well exemplified in the stand of rye five feet four inches high on display in the window of the Dispatch office. Standing firm and luxuriantly headed the rye is the finest example of anything grown in this crop in the county. It was raised on the farm of J. M. Hayes, situated near Barrows in section 8, township 44, range 31. With a crop of such rye a farmer may confidently face the future. There isn't anything in Canada or Iowa or Illinois to compare with it.

Corn is growing well throughout the county and will yield a big crop this season. Potatoes are growing like weeds and the tuber crop will be something enormous. At Deerwood the Bay Lake Fruit Growers association is building a warehouse to house the potatoes raised by the members of their association.

"I never saw finer oats," said Alderman Elder, when alluding to crop conditions at his farm in the county. "The yield will be away above the average this year."

And talking about hay. In Crow Wing county's entire history in the past ten years or more there never has been a bigger hay crop. Wild and tame hay have thrived well. Pasturage is excellent for cattle and horses and if there is a man in this county who can smile at good times, it's the farmer whose home is in Crow Wing county.

ating a sewer fund and getting the money by general assessment.

Liquor licenses were granted William Sinclair, Henry Theviot and Joseph Hill.

A letter was read from Supt. A. V. Brown, of the Northern Pacific railway, asking the city for an estimate of cost on the installation of paving to be done by the railway company, based on the bids to the city for rails work. The city clerk was ordered to comply with his request.

Supt. J. P. Anderson, of the shops, reported on the progress the railway was making to install the crossing lights. Lack of some of the material was retarding the work.

The bond of Everett & Hitch, cement contractors, was approved.

The sinking fund commissioners were given permission to retire several $500 bonds, also several in the revolving fund.

Alderman Anderson brought up the matter of having the streets oiled and enough oil purchased to try out the experiment on several blocks. Most of the aldermen favored this but Alderman Elder argued that only a few months were left before snow came. It would be better to buy the oil in the spring and thus give it six months test.

William Graham filed an objection to the alleged high sewer taxes imposed on his lots near the cemetery.

John A. Hoffbauer filed a claim for damages against Werner Hemstead and the city jointly for injuries sustained while riding his bicycle on the corner of South Sixth and Front streets, at the time of the street carnival, claiming $500 damages by reason of being struck by an automobile. Jay Henry Long appeared as his attorney. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

Residents of Fir street filed a petition asking that the width of their street be established at 40 feet. No action was taken as the petitioners did not represent the whole street and the matter will be taken up later.

Receiver Matteson, of the National Heat, Light & Power company was scored because he has not had a report before the council the last three meetings and failed to be present at this meeting. The city clerk was instructed to write to him.

By resolution South Seventh street was ordered paved with concrete instead of macadam between Maple and Oak streets.

City Clerk Roderick in examining old statistics, reported that the Northern Pacific railway company had paid $2,000 as a donation to assist in the construction of a general sewer from the N. P. dump to the Mississippi river, there being a treasurer's receipt No. 2621 on file.

City Engineer Peacock reported on the progress of work under his supervision. He was loaded down with instructions to keep an eye on paving, crude oil, sewers, catch basins, water mains, concrete and cement work, etc., when he and Alderman James M. Elder accompanied by President M. T. Dunn and Commissioner Mons Mahlum went on their trip of inspection to other cities as agreed upon by the water and light board and the city council.

Chicago, August 6, 1:32 P. M.—Chairman Beveridge, calls the second session of the National Progressive or third party convention to order. Reports of the standing committees are received.

Amid one of the greatest demonstrations ever accorded, Col. Roosevelt appears on the platform to deliver his address.

2:36 P. M.—Roosevelt entered from the rear of the hall. A mass of waving bandana handkerchiefs greeted him. More than 12,000 people joined in the demonstration lasting several minutes. Behind Roosevelt during the demonstration was a drum and fife corps of veterans of the Civil war. Roosevelt beat time with his hand as they played. Women rang cowbells, revolvers were used to add to the din and the call of the bull moose added to convention claque. After twenty minutes the demonstration ceased by singing, "Glory Hallelujah."

2:40 P. M.—The hour's demonstration for Roosevelt ceased when at the demand of the delegates, Mrs. Roosevelt rose in her seat in a box near the stage and waved a bandana handkerchief at her husband. He answered her salute.

DEERWOOD GAY WITH BUNTING

Merchants and Clerks Picnic in Deerwood Wednesday, August 7, Will be Great Event

BRAINERD HAS A HOLIDAY

Whole Town Will Close Shop Wednesday and Go to the Picnic, Train Leaving at 9:30 A. M.

Tomorrow, Wednesday, August 7, is the date of the second annual picnic of the Brainerd merchants and clerks and the event this year will be held in Deerwood.

To say that Deerwood is preparing to outdo itself in the entertainment line is putting it mildly. Miles of bunting have been used to decorate the stores and residences. They ran out of bunting this morning and phoned to D. A. Peterson for all of his bunting stock and he shipped them 100 yards by express.

The Deerwood concert band is practicing up and has got No. 2 in the red book down fine. It is "See the Conquering Hero Comes," and they will let loose, we mean start playing, when the Brainerd special leaves into view.

Benches and tables are in place. Rowboats and launches and bath houses and refreshment booths and what not have been engaged and are ready to serve Brainerd when the county seat takes possession of Deerwood.

The big train leaves the Brainerd depot at 9:30 A. M. sharp. The depot will be open at eight o'clock. Come early, says the committee and buy your tickets before the general rush sets. The Northern Pacific railway company is hustling in coaches from Missoula, Mont., and other points west in order to supply the demand for cars tomorrow.

Everybody is praying it won't rain. The Brainerd City band and the Unity band go with the excursionists. Fatty Woods will umpire the game between the merchants and the clerks and Fatty has been burning the midnight oil at the Coffrain & Hess barber shop studying the latest decisions on base running and strikes and balls.

No use staying in Brainerd tomorrow for all of Brainerd will be at Deerwood. Train leaves Deerwood at 9 P. M. for home.

McKay Warehouse Burned on Farm

A large machine shed used as a warehouse on the farm of W. D. McKay across the river and within the northwestern city limits of Brainerd was burned to the ground with all its contents. The shed is situated in the center of the 80 acres and was valued at over $250. The farm machinery and other tools was worth over $500. There was some insurance.

Mr. McKay, at present, is traveling in the west through Oregon, Washington and Idaho. The origin of the fire is unknown.

MINNEAPOLIS B. P. O. E. BEATEN 7 TO 2

The Antlered Host of the Flour City Were Nearly Shut Out on Sunday Afternoon

HELD TOGETHER FOUR INNINGS

Their Pitcher "Walter" Johnson, Faded Away and the Locals Brought in Four Runs

The Minneapolis Elks of Lodge No. 44 were beaten to a frazzle Sunday afternoon by the local Elks, the score being 7 to 2. One of their scores rolled in on a close decision by Umpire John Cummins in the fourth inning when bystanders at the initial sack say that Felix, the Minneapolis man, was out by two feet. He was given a life and worked in the first run on errors by the locals.

In the second inning Templeton brought in the first tally for Brainerd. While playing off second he dodged for the base and got a thrown ball on the side of his head, Callan running for him and scoring.

In the fifth there was a regular cloudburst of runs. Laymon got to first on a small drive in the infield, the first baseman fumbling the ball. Weaver surprised the whole grandstand by hitting the ball which was held and thrown to second, forcing out Laymon. Alderman drew a pass to first. Callan's high fly was dropped by a fielder and Weaver ran in. Rogers drew a base on balls. Roderick struck out. Templeton rose to the occasion, as he generally does in a pinch and hammered out a three base hit which scored Alderman, Callan and Rogers. Sanborn was striking while Templeton was put out trying to steal home, being caught near third. In the seventh Alderman scored and in the eighth Fraser trotted to home with the seventh run.

Alderman pitched superb ball and fielded well and was the mainstay of the locals. He handled himself well and could be depended on in the pinches. Fans say that "Happy" never pitched a better game in his life. He was right there in the base running too and scored two of the runs of the locals.

"Walter" Johnson, as the crowd dubbed the Minneapolis pitcher, threw several elusive curves and walked batters on several occasions. He commenced to get tired about the middle of the game and the locals pounded him heavy.

Fraser clouted the ball well and sent one away out into left field. Laymon found the ball and the short drives he made advanced base runners and were a factor in winning the game. The scorekeeper has him down for an error which Laymon says isn't right, as he never got a hand on the ball while it was sailing through the air. Weaver had his batting eyes in use and brought in a run.

The Minneapolis men were good losers and did not kick very hard against some of Cummins' decisions. Three or four of their regular players missed the early morning train and the manager was continually receiving telegrams on the field as follows: "Missed early train. Can't be in Brainerd for game."

The Mankato team recently beat the Minneapolis nine and were so puffed up about it that they had their picture in the paper. The attendance was large. The score:

"The Sunset Gun"

(Edison)

It is a stirring human and deeply truthful picture of an old soldier's last Memorial Day. There are village scenes and a parade of veterans to the cemetery. He dreams of morning roll call, of battles, of the sunset gun, and of taps blown over the sleeping soldiers in bivouac on the battle field. It is a photograph of real life and in truth a masterpiece.

This picture is another series of views of the famous ship, her officers, crew and life saving apparatus, and was taken at the time of the presentation of the New York American's check and of the loving cup to the savers of the Titanic castaways.  "What happens when you put the dollar before the man?" bawled the candidate.
 "The man goes after it," answered an old farmer in the crowd.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

BEVERIDGE TO PROGRESSIVES

Speech as Temporary Chairman at Chicago.

DEFINES PARTY POLICIES.

Direct Primaries to Insure Freedom From Boss Rule—Declares For Woman Suffrage—Regulation, Not Destruction, of Big Business—Aldrich Tariff Condemned.

We stand for a nobler America. We stand for a broader liberty, a fuller justice. We stand for social brotherhood as against savage individualism. We stand for an intelligent co-operation instead of a reckless competition. We stand for mutual helpfulness instead of mutual hatred. We stand for equal rights as a fact of life instead of a catch word of politics. We stand for the rule of the people as a practical truth instead of a meaningless pretense. We stand for a representative government that represents the people. We battle for the actual rights of man.

To carry out our principles we have a plain program of constructive reform. We mean to tear down only that which is wrong and out of date; and where we tear down we mean to build what is right and fitted to the times. We hearken to the call of the present. We mean to make laws fit conditions as they are and meet the needs of the people who are on earth today. That we may do this we found a party through which all who believe with us can work with us, or, rather, we declare our allegiance to the party which the people themselves have founded.

[After making the point that both the old parties were divided within themselves between reactionaries and progressives, Mr. Beveridge went on:] This untelligent tangle is seen in congress. Republican and Democratic senators and representatives, believing alike on broad measures affecting the whole republic, find it hard to vote together because of the nominal difference of their party membership. When sometimes under resistless conviction they do vote together we have this foolish spectacle—legislators calling themselves Republicans and Democrats support the same policy, the Democratic legislators declaring that that policy is Democratic and Republican legislators declaring that it is Republican, and at the very same time other Democratic and Republican legislators oppose that very same policy, each of them declaring that it is not Democratic or not Republican.

This condition makes it impossible most of the time and hard at any time for the people's legislators who believe in the same broad policies to enact them into logical, comprehensive laws. It confuses the public mind. It breeds suspicion and distrust. It enables special interests as seek unjust gain at the public expense to get what they want. It creates and fosters the degrading boss system in American politics through which these special interests work.

How Bosses Flourish.
 This boss system is unknown and impossible under any other free government in the world. In its very nature it is hostile to the general welfare. Yet it has grown until it now is a controlling influence in American public affairs. At the present moment notorious bosses are in the saddle of both old parties in various important states which must be carried to elect a president.

dent. This Black Horse cavalry is the most important force in the practical work of the Democratic and Republican parties in the present campaign. Neither of the old parties' nominees for president can escape obligation to these old party bosses nor shake their practical hold on many and powerful members of the national legislature.

The special interests which suck the people's substance are bipartisan. They use both parties. They are the invisible government behind our visible government. Democratic and Republican bosses alike are brother officers of this hidden power. No matter how fiercely they pretend to fight one another before election, they work together after election. And acting so this political conspiracy is able to delay, mutilate or defeat sound and needed laws for the people's welfare and the prosperity of honest business and even to enact bad laws, hurtful to the people's welfare and oppressive to honest business.

The Bane of Sectionalism.
 But an even more serious condition results from the unnatural alignment of the old parties. Today we Americans are politically shattered by sectionalism. Through the two old parties the tragedy of our history is continued, and one great geographical part of the republic is separated from other parts of the republic by an illogical partisan solidarity.

The south has men and women as genuinely progressive and others as genuinely reactionary as those in other parts of our country. Yet for well known reasons these sincere and honest southern progressives and reactionaries vote together in a single party, which is neither progressive nor reactionary. They vote for a dead tradition and a local fear, not a living conviction and a national faith. They vote not for the Democratic party, but against the Republican party. They want to be free from this condition; they can be free from it through the national Progressive party.

Direct Nominations.
 The root of the wrongs which hurt the people is the fact that the people's government has been taken away from them. Their government must be given back to the people. And so the first purpose of the Progressive party is to make sure the rule of the people. The rule of the people means that the people themselves shall nominate as well as elect all candidates for office, including senators and presidents of the United States. What profiteth it the people if they do only the electing while the invisible government does the nominating?

The rule of the people means that, when the people's legislators make a law which hurts the people, the people themselves may reject it. The rule of the people means that when the people's legislators refuse to pass a law which the people need the people themselves may pass it. The rule of the people means that when the people's employees do not do the people's work well and honestly the people may discharge them exactly as a business man discharges employees who do not do their work well and honestly. The people's officials are the people's servants, not their masters.

[With the vast natural resources of the country and its comparatively sparse population, the speaker said, American industry should never suffer depression or even uncertainty, yet hundreds of thousands of workmen find it difficult to gain a living, while the exploitation of the labor of women and children degraded great classes of the population.]

With the growth of big business came business evils just as great. It is these evils of big business that hurt the people and injure all other business. One of these wrongs is overcapitalization, which taxes the people's very living. Another is the manipulation of prices to the detriment of all normal business and to the people's damage. Another is interference in the making of the people's laws and the running of the people's government in the unjust interest of evil business. Getting laws that enable particular interests to rob the people and even to gather criminal riches from human health and life is still another.

Other nations have ended the very same business evils from which we suffer by clearly defining business wrongdoing and then making it a criminal offense, punishable by imprisonment. Yet these foreign nations encourage big business itself and foster all honest business. But they do not tolerate dishonest business, little or big.

What, then, shall we Americans do? Common sense and the experience of the world say that we ought to keep what the good big business does for us and stop the wrongs that big business does to us. Yet we have done just the other thing. We have struck at big business itself and have not even aimed to strike at the evils of big business. Nearly twenty-five years ago congress passed a law to govern American business in the present time which parliament passed in the reign of King James to govern English business in that time.

For a quarter of a century the courts have tried to make this law work. Yet during this very time trusts grew greater in number and power than in the whole history of the world before, and their evils flourished unhindered and unchecked. These great business concerns grew because natural laws made them grow and artificial law at war with natural law could not stop their growth. But their evils grew faster than the trusts themselves because avarice nourished those evils and no law of any kind stopped avarice from nourishing them.

Sherman Law Condemned.
 Nor is this the worst. Under the shifting interpretation of the Sherman law, uncertainty and fear is chilling the energies of the great body of honest American business men. As the Sherman law now stands no two business men can arrange their mutual affairs and be sure that they are not law-breakers. This is the main hindrance to the immediate and permanent revival of American business. If German or English business men, with all their disadvantages compared with our advantages, were managed by our Sherman law as it stands, they soon would be bankrupt. Indeed, foreign business men declare that if their countries had such a law, so administered, they could not do business at all.

Even this is not all. By the decrees of our courts under the Sherman law the two mightiest trusts on earth have actually been licensed, in the practical outcome, to go on doing every wrong they ever committed. Under the decrees of the courts the oil and tobacco trusts still can raise prices unjustly and already have done so. They still can issue watered stock and surely will do so. They still can throttle other business men, and the United Cigar Stores company now is doing so. They still can corrupt our politics and this moment are indulging in that practice.

We mean to put new business laws on our statute books which will tell American business men what they can do and what they cannot do. We mean to make our business laws clear instead of foggy, to make them plainly state just what things are criminal and what are lawful. And we mean that the penalty for things criminal shall be prison sentences that actually punish the real offender instead of money fines that hurt nobody but the people, who must pay them in the end.

And then we mean to send the message forth to hundreds of thousands of brilliant minds and brave hearts engaged in honest business that they are not criminals, but honorable men, in their work to make good business in this republic.

The Tariff.
 The next great business reform we must have to steadily increase American prosperity is to change the method of building our tariffs. The tariff must be taken out of politics and treated as a business question instead of as a political question. Heretofore we have just done the other thing. That is why American business is upset every few years by unnecessary tariff upheavals and is weakened by uncertainty in the periods between.

What, then, shall we do to make our tariff changes strengthen business instead of weakening business? Rival protective tariff nations have answered that question. Common sense has answered it. Next to our need to make the Sherman law modern, understandable and just our greatest fiscal need is a genuine, permanent, nonpartisan tariff commission.

Neither of the old parties can honestly carry out any tariff policies which they pledge the people to carry out. But even if they could and even if they were sincere the old party platforms are in error on tariff policy. The Democratic platform declares for free trade, but free trade is wrong and ruinous. The Republican platform permits extortion, but tariff extortion is robbery by law. The Progressive party is for honest protection, and honest protection is right and a condition of American prosperity.

A tariff high enough to give American producers the American market when they make honest goods and sell them at honest prices, but low enough that when they sell dishonest goods at dishonest prices foreign competition can correct both evils; a tariff high enough to enable American producers to pay our workmen American wages and so arranged that the workmen will get such wages; a business tariff whose changes will be so made as to reassure business instead of disturbing it—this is the tariff and the method of its making in which the Progressive party believes, for which it does battle and which it proposes to write into the laws of the land.

The Payne-Aldrich tariff laws must be revised immediately in accordance to these principles. At the same time a genuine, permanent, nonpartisan tariff commission must be fixed in the law as firmly as the interstate commerce commission.

Child Labor.
 These are samples of the reforms in the laws of business that we intend to put on the nation's statute books. But there are other questions as important and pressing that we mean to answer by sound and humane laws. Child labor in factories, mills, mines and sweatshops must be ended throughout the republic. Such labor is a crime against childhood because it prevents the growth of normal manhood and womanhood. It is a crime against the nation because it prevents the growth of a host of children into strong, patriotic and intelligent citizens.

Only the nation can stop this industrial vice. The states cannot stop it. The states never stopped any national wrong, and child labor is a national wrong. To leave it to the state alone is unjust to business, for if some states stop it and other states do not business men of the former are at a disadvantage with the business men of the latter, because they must sell in the same market goods made by manhood labor at manhood wages in competition with goods made by childhood labor at childhood wages.

Toward women the Progressive party proclaims the chivalry of the state. We propose to protect women wage-earners by suitable laws, an example of which is the minimum wage for women workers—a wage which shall be high enough to at least buy clothing, food and shelter for the woman toiler.

The care of the aged is one of the most perplexing problems of modern life. How is the workman with less than $500 a year and with earning power waning as his own years advance to provide for aged parents or other relatives in addition to furnishing food, shelter and clothing for his wife and children? What is to become of the family of the laboring man whose strength has been sapped by excessive toil and who has been thrown upon the industrial scrap heap? It is questions like these we must answer if we are to justify free institutions. They are questions to which the masses of people are chained as to a body of death.

Votes For Women.
 We Progressives mean that America shall answer them. The Progressive party is the helping hand to those whom a vicious industrialism has maimed and crippled. We are for the conservation of our natural resources, but even more we are for the conservation of human life. Our forests, water power and minerals are valuable and must be saved from the spoilers, but
